12. Evaluation Criteria and Methodology

12.1 Evaluation of tenders and selection of contractors'/service providers

The NHLS is a Schedule 3A Government Institution subjected to the Public Finance Management Act (PFMA), the Public Preferential Framework Act (PPPFA) and Treasury Regulations/ Instructions. Bidders must assist the NHLS to eliminate corruption and fraud by completing and submitting form SBD4.

- 12.1.1. Any tender closing is followed by a Public Opening where the names and pricing of all bids received are read out to the bidders attending. NHLS tender opening officials sign the pages where pricing is indicated to prevent any alterations.
- 12.1.2 Next steps of evaluation is Administrative pre-qualification verification and the "technical" or so called "functional" evaluation which is purely based on NHLS specifications (Annexure 2) and Scope of Work. NHLS end-user department (who requested the bid), Procurement Services, Finance and subject specialists are part of the Cross Functional Evaluation Team (CFET) meeting which is chaired by Quality Assurance (QA). All the members of the CFET must complete Declaration of Interest forms and must recuse themselves in case of any conflict of interest.
- 12.1.3 The final stage of evaluation is done after the CFET has reached their verdict and is done by NHLS Procurement Services and separately from the CFET meeting. Points for Specific Goals (commercial evaluation) is being added in order to get the final order of merit for the bidders being evaluated.
- 12.1.4 Bidders that score the minimum threshold are recommended and submitted to the NHLS Tender Evaluation Committee (TAC) for adjudication and the bid MUST be awarded to the bidder who scored the highest points (Merit 1) during the CFET and Commercial evaluation(B-BBEE). All the members of the CFET must complete Declaration of Interest forms and must recuse themselves in case of any conflict of interest. Should the TAC decide on a bidder other than Merit 1, this decision must be motivated as a Deviation from NHLS Policy & procedure and Treasury must be advised accordingly.
- 12.1.5 The CEO of the NHLS must finally approve the recommendation by the TAC, in his capacity as the Accounting Officer.
- 12.1.6 Details of the successful bidder to be advertised in the Government Tender Bulletin.
- 12.1.7 Suppliers must accept the Terms & Conditions of our contract(s) which will result from the RFB document". RFB conditions and pricing shall be fixed and firm from RFB closing date to the end of contract.

3 BACKGROUND

National Health Laboratory Services [hereinafter referred to as NHLS] is a public health laboratory service with laboratories across South Africa. Its activities comprise diagnostic laboratory services, research, teaching and training, and production of sera for anti-snake venom, reagents and media. NHLS was established in 2001 by an Act of Parliament to provide diagnostic pathology laboratory services to the National and Provincial Health Department.

4 SCOPE OF WORK

The National Health Laboratory Service is an essential service provider, providing diagnostic services to +_80% of the South African population. Therefore, continuous power cuts due to the load shedding severely affect the organisation's operations. Then the alternative solution to remedy the current situation is to procure other energy sources instead of relying on Eskom. NHLS management has decided to install solar systems at the Sandringham Campus, which will result in a sustainable power supply. In the long run, the organisation will save money.

The project specification contains a general description of the project, available facilities and the conditions with which the works have to comply. In the case of any apparent contradiction, the project specification will take precedence over the particular and standardised specifications in the respective order.

1. DESCRIPTION OF THE WORKS

4.3.1.4 Guarantees and Warranties

Modules shall carry a product warranty of at least 10 years and a linear 25-year performance guarantee of 80%.

The warranties offered by the module manufacturer shall be transferrable to the Employer. Other terms and conditions for warranties transferability must be clearly defined.

The sales agreement with the module manufacturer shall clearly define the claiming procedure of defective modules, the required additional specific independent party involvement and any other conditions that might influence the honouring of the warranty and guarantee.

.4.3.2 Inverters

Preference is given to the following inverters in no particular order, see Part 6.

4.3.2.1 Technical Requirements IEC

- The MPP voltages of the strings are to be verified to lie in the MPP voltage range of the inverter for temperatures between 0°C and 70°C. The maximum inverter input voltage is not to be exceeded at temperatures of -10°C.
- An IP protection class of at least IP54 is required for outdoor mounting and an IP grade of at least IP21 is required for indoor mounting of the inverters;
- If inverters are installed outdoors must be protected from direct sunlight;
- The inverter requires an external DC switch.

In cases where applicable, there may be special grounding requirements for inverters. These are stipulated by the PV module manufacturer. In such cases, it is the Contractor's responsibility to notify the Engineer and implement these requirements.

4.3.2.2 Guarantees and Warranties

Inverters shall have a warranty of at least 10 years. The contract sales agreement with the inverter manufacturer shall clearly define the claiming procedure of defect inverters or parts. The required testing, independent verification requirements and any other conditions that might influence the honouring of the warranties.

Any extension and the full scope of that extension to the standard limited warranty that is included in the price should be indicated clearly.

Upon request by the Engineer/Project Manager, the Contractor must provide proof that the inverter manufacturers have sufficient financial backup that covers manufacturers in bankruptcy or insolvency procedures.

The conditions which void the warranties shall be clearly stated.

The warranties offered by the Inverter manufacturers shall be transferrable to the Employer. Other terms and conditions for warranties transferability must be clearly defined.

4.3.3 Mounting structure

The supporting structure of the modules and all other PV components on the roof shall be designed and installed in line with the relevant South African standards are to be used, more in particular applicable for PV installations.

- SANS 10160 Part 2 Self weight and imposed loads
- SANS 10160 Part 3 Wind actions

The wind load on the modules should be calculated (prior to the selection of the supporting structure) for each specific location depending on wind zone of the site, surroundings of building, roof altitude, inclination of roof and modules, location of modules on the roof (corners, roof edge, etc.), load of PV installation, distance between rows of modules, presence of wind shield, etc.

The amount of connection points will be calculated based on the applied loads and the static behaviour of the system. The connection points may not harm the position of or the sealing in- between the roofing.

Wind load stability calculations will be provided to the Employer.

Structures are typically made from aluminium and steel; those materials should be new and conform to the current norms in terms of characteristics (quality, tolerance...). All used screws and clamps need to be resistant to corrosion.

The mounting of other components should not be done by penetrating the structure (e.g. drilling holes) as this might void the galvanisation layer. A clamping method is preferred, or adequate measures are to be taken to ensure a corrosion protection.

4.3.4 Structural Engineer's Input

4.3.4.1 Inception

During the inception stage the structural engineer's project team will meet with the Client and approved Contractor to familiarise themselves with the scope of the project. This meeting ensures that all parties are aligned in terms of the installation required, which will include, but is not limited to, project time frames, project costs estimates, basic guidelines and relevant technical information and final construction deliverables.

This phase will be accompanied by an Inception Report that will serve as the "updated Terms of Reference" for the project or finalising the "User Requirement Statement".

4.3.4.2 Stage 1

A "data collection and review" exercise will be conducted in order to ascertain the status quo of existing buildings if applicable.

This may include the following items:

- "As built" drawings of existing buildings
- On site visual survey of existing buildings identified as Stage 1 which will include a site investigation of the roofs and a report with detailed findings.
- Recommendations on any further detailed investigations if required.

The on-site visual status quo information gathered by the project team will be used to confirm "As built" drawings and to prepare a draft report on existing structures.

The site investigation will determine:

- a) The condition of the structure of the building
 - To identify types of structural defects if applicable
 - To identify signs of structural distress and/or deformation
 - To identify signs of material deterioration
- b) The loading on the structure of the building
 - To identify any deviation from intended use or un-intended use which may result in overloading
- c) Any addition or alteration works affecting the structure of the building
 - To identify additional or alteration works which can result in overloading or adverse effects on the structure.
 - Argue a load exchange or load balancing rationale when applicable to access restrictive additions, such as roof-top PV solar power plants

If there are no signs of any structural deterioration or defects, the site investigation may suffice and, unless the structural engineer otherwise advises, no further action may need to be taken.

However, if signs of concerning structural deterioration or defects are present, the structural engineer will make a professional assessment of the deterioration or defect and recommend appropriate remedial actions. Such actions may involve repair- or additional structural strengthening works to the building structure.

4.3.4.3 Stage 2: Full Structural Investigation (if applicable)

The outcome of the Stage 1 and 2 investigation may lead to further structural investigations. The scope of a full structural investigation may include the following:

- a) Obtaining information relating to the design, construction, maintenance and history of the building;
- b) Assessing the structural adequacy of the building by reviewing available engineering drawings and design reports;
- c) Possible tests on relevant building materials;
- d) Possible load test on parts of the building where deemed necessary;
- e) Recommend appropriate safety, precautionary and remedial measures to restore the structural integrity.

Issue a detailed structural investigation report with recommendations.

4.3.4.4 Handing Over to Client / Contractor

- Arrangement of final inspections accompanied by representatives from the client and stakeholder.
- Issuing of practical completion certificates, as built drawings and final completion certificates.

4.4 MODULE MOUNTING

The way of mounting the modules onto the mounting structure shall be in accordance with the requirements of the module manufacturer and mounting structure manufacturer as described in the instruction manual of both components. If not, written approval on the way of mounting shall be provided by the Contractor from the module manufacturer and/or the mounting structure manufacturer.

If modules are clamped onto the mounting structure, at least 4 clamping points should be used. The minimal torque for screwing the modules as stated in the instruction manual shall be respected.

The Contractor shall foresee a minimum inclination of the modules in order to assure the self- cleaning effect by the rain, i.e. at least 15° from the horizontal. When flush mount, roof installations are proposed, this requirement may be waved.

The sheds are to be designed so that the shadow angle is to stay below winter solstice. The shadow angle is defined as the angle between the horizontal and the line connecting the highest point of one row to the lowest point of the following row of modules.

.4.4.1 PV Mounting structure
