3. SPECIFICATION

FORM OF QUOTATION SUPPLIER NAME: _____

RFQ NO : 199674

REQUEST FOR THE ASSESSMENT, EVALUATION AND REPURPOSING OF NHLS REDUNDANT WASTE MATERIALS AND RECYCLING FOR A PERIOD OF 12 MONTHS

1. PURPOSE

The Head of Supply Chain Management is requested to approve the bid specification, bid document and the notification to publish the bid for the REQUEST FOR QUOTATIONS FOR THE ASSESSMENT, EVALUATION, REPURPOSING FOR NHLS REDUNDANT WASTE MATERIALS AND RECYCLING A PERIOD OF 12 MONTHS

2. BACKGROUND AND SUMMARY

The National Health Laboratory Service (NHLS) is a leading public health laboratory service in South Africa, responsible for providing diagnostic and testing services to support healthcare delivery. As part of its operations, NHLS has accumulated a stockpile of redundant materials, including personal protective equipment (PPE), swabs, sanitisers, and other laboratory consumables, as detailed in the attached inventory list. These materials, many of which are expired or no longer needed, represent an opportunity for sustainable disposal through recycling, aligning with NHLS's commitment to environmental responsibility and resource optimisation. The primary aim of this RFP is to engage a qualified recycling service provider to assess, collect, recycle, and/or repurpose the redundant materials listed in the inventory. NHLS seeks to not only ensure environmentally sound disposal but also to derive financial or in-kind benefits from the recycling process, such as revenue from material sales or offsets against recycling costs. The initiative is driven by NHLS's commitment to sustainability, compliance with South African environmental regulations, and maximising value from redundant assets. The redundant materials include, but are not limited to:

- Disposable PPE (coveralls, aprons, mop caps, shoe covers, etc.)
- Sanitisers (hand sanitisers, disinfectant wipes)
- Swabs (flocked, nasal, throat, sterile, etc.)
- Laboratory consumables (reaction vessels, filter tips, deep well plates, etc.)
- Other medical and protective equipment (goggles, masks, etc.)
- Empty Sanitiser Bottles

3. OBJECTIVE OF THIS RFQ

Purpose of the RFP: The purpose of this RFP is to solicit proposals from experienced recycling companies to:

- Assess and Evaluate: Conduct a detailed assessment of the redundant materials to determine their recyclability, market value, and potential for repurposing.
- Propose a Strategy: Provide a comprehensive recycling plan, including methodologies, timelines, and expected financial or in-kind benefits for NHLS.
- Execute Recycling: Collect, process, and recycle or repurpose the materials in compliance with South African environmental regulations and industry best practices.
- Generate Revenue: Structure the recycling process to generate revenue for NHLS, potentially through an auction-based model or direct sale of recyclable materials, ensuring that NHLS incurs no recycling costs.
- The RFP aims to identify a bidder with a proven track record in recycling, particularly in handling medical and PPE-related materials, to deliver a sustainable and financially beneficial solution.

NHLS is committed to sustainable waste management and seeks a recycling partner to transform its redundant materials into valuable resources. By leveraging the expertise of experienced bidders, NHLS aims to achieve environmental compliance, reduce waste, and generate revenue from the recycling process. The successful bidder will demonstrate technical proficiency, regulatory compliance, and a clear strategy for maximising financial benefits for NHLS.

4. PRICING

The proposed pricing model is a Profit-Sharing Partnership, where the bidder assumes all operational costs and shares the net profits from the sale of recyclables with NHLS. This model leverages market demand for recyclables (e.g., plastics, paper, metals) and ensures NHLS incurs no expenses while receiving a percentage of revenue. Below are the key components, structure, and substantiation for the Model Structure

- Revenue Source: Income is generated from selling processed recyclables to buyers
- Cost Coverage: The bidder covers all costs (e.g., collection, sorting, processing, transport, compliance) through revenue from recyclables, ensuring no direct cost to NHLS.
- Profit Split: Net profits (revenue minus operational costs) are shared between NHLS and the bidder, typically on a percentage basis
- Transparency

Waste Stream Analysis	Stream Analysis Identify and quantify NHLS waste streams (e.g., 10 tons/month paper, 5 tons/month plastics). Estimate market value based on current prices (e.g.R2,000/ton for PET, R1,500/ton for paper)	Determines revenue potential and informs profit-sharing. Aligns with NEM: WA waste classification requirements	- Waste audit report (volume, type, quality). - Market price data from SAPRO, PRASA, or PETCO. - Lab reports for hazardous waste (e.g., e-waste).
Operational Cost	Detail all costs borne by the bidder: collection (fuel, vehicles), sorting/processing (equipment, labour), transport, compliance (WML fees, SAWIS reporting), and administration.	Ensures NHLS incurs no costs. Demonstrates bidder's financial capacity (NEM: WA Section 49).	Cost breakdown table (e.g., labour: R20,000, fuel: R10,000).
Revenue Projections	Estimate revenue from recyclables based on volume and market rates.	Bidders show profit potential for sharing.	Revenue forecast table (by waste stream). - Letters of intent from recycling buyers. - Historical sales data from similar projects.
Profit Sharing Split	Propose a profit sharing between NHLS and the bidder (revenue share).	Meets NHLS's no-cost, revenue-sharing preference. Ensures fairness and transparency.	Proposed split percentage in bid narrative. - Draft profit-sharing agreement (subject to negotiation).
